

Interstuhl Appoints Prestige International Distributor for Award Winning UPis1 Stool to Ergonomic Customers

Interstuhl, the largest ergonomic task seating manufacturer in Europe, has appointed Prestige International as exclusive distributor of its height adjustable UPis1 stool to ergonomic value-added retailers/distributors in the United States.

“The UPis1 Stool that was launched at NeoCon 2016 is propelling Interstuhl into brand new markets and customers in the US – specifically through the ergonomic channel,” said Ryan Featherston, National Sales Manager at Interstuhl, Inc. “Recognizing that Prestige is the expert and authority for the distribution of ergonomic solutions in the US, we jumped at the opportunity to work with them on providing health positive solutions in the workplace.”

Interstuhl’s UPis1 stool is an ideal ergonomic solution for the office, classroom, hospital, retail space, and even the home. With a variety of fun colors, a comfortable polyurethane seat, easily cleanable plastic surface, and impressive 18“-25“ height adjustability – the UPis1 stool is a truly unique ergonomic product. And the experts agree: Interstuhl’s UPis1 stool won the highly coveted Gold Medal at the German Design Awards for 2017.

“We are excited to join with Interstuhl and continue to provide the highest quality products and services to those in the ergonomic community,” Marc Bruh, CEO of Prestige said. “Together with Interstuhl we look forward to reinforcing how exceptional seating completes an ergonomic workspace.”

About Interstuhl

Interstuhl is a 3rd generation, family owned company in the heart of the Swabian Alps in Germany. With over 65 years of high quality seating engineering – we are truly ergonomic seating experts. Interstuhl’s driving force behind our innovation is encouraging health and activity in a world where individuals spend long periods of time sitting.
